Good morning --

You will have to contact the sponsor of the study or a clinical investigator that is overseeing the study in your area. FDA does not enroll subjects in clinical studies. We regulated clinical studies involving FDA-regulated products. If this study is NIH funded, you may contact them directly. You may also search for trials on the government website clinicaltrials.gov. Please see both websites below.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I am interested in participating in your study [redacted]. Do you currently have any vacant positions for this study or any other study requiring a healthy volunteer?

I am healthy white female 46 yr old currently residing in Washington, DC.

Thank you,
