Good morning –

I could not find anything from an FDA standpoint (regulations) that answers your question regarding Botox. I did find a FDA web link below. Please see the “Recommendations” section of the document

Drug Safety Information for Healthcare Professionals > Follow-up to the February 8, 2008. Early Communication about an Ongoing Safety Review of Botox and Botox Cosmetic \(Botulinum toxin Type A\) and Myobloc \(Botulinum toxin Type B\)

It might be helpful to look into the state and local laws that govern Botox injections in the state in which you reside in. I believe licensing and training for administration of Botox would fall under the practice of medicine. FDA does not address issues that fall under the practice of medicine.

Kind regards,

Doreen M. Kezer, MSN
Senior Health Policy Analyst
Office of Good Clinical Practice
Office of the Commissioner, FDA

Hello,

I work In the Compliance Department for hospital system in Scottsdale Arizona. I am trying to find any regulation that might state what licensing and training is required to give Botox injections.

Thank you for your assistance,
