Good afternoon –

Clinical trials that have been submitted to FDA but not currently approved are considered confidential and therefore cannot be shared with the public. Please see the FDA websites below that lists the drugs and medical devices approved by FDA. You would need to contact the sponsors directly for updates on the drug approval processing.

You can also search ongoing clinical trials that are listed in the clinicaltrials.gov database. See the link below.

I hope this information is helpful. Please contact us again at gcp.questions@fda.hhs.gov should you have additional questions.

Subject: Re: Your help in Researching Clinical Trials

Good morning,

I am working on a research program that involves locating Companies that have applied for FDA Clinical Trials.

Would you be so kind as to direct me where on your web site I can find;

- 1) A list of all companies that have applied for Clinical Trials.
- 2) For those companies that have been approved, how do I access how they are progressing, such as advancing from one successful trial to the next.

Your help would be greatly appreciated.

Thank you,
